Beware of the Dance.

CLEMONS, KY., Jan. 28, '08.

EDITOR THE NEWS:

Last Saturday night a crowd of men and women of this vicinity gathered at the house recently vacated by Harry Clemmons and held a dance. The banjo, the pistol and whiskey were also in attendance.
Dear reader, do you know what dancing cost one of the greatest prophets that ever lived? Read St. Matthew 14th chapter, 6th to 10th verse. The poet says that hineous sin, called evil mirth, God threatens with his dreadful wrath.
Father and mother, who attend drunken dances, are you training your children in the way the Lord would have them go? If the groans of the dumb beast be heard against the sinner in the great judgment day, how much greater will be the cries of your dear little children. BELLE CLEMONS.

Printed By Request.

Mix the following by shaking well in a bottle, and take in teaspoonful doses after meals and at bedtime:

Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces. A local druggist is the authority that these simple, harmless ingredients can be obtained at nominal cost from our home druggists.

The mixture is said to cleanse and strengthen the clogged and inactive kidneys, overcoming backache, bladder weakness and Urinary trouble of all kinds, if taken before the stage of Bright's disease.

Those who have tried this say it positively overcomes pain in the back, clears the urine of sediment and regulates urination, especially at night, curing even the worst forms of bladder weakness.

Every man or woman here who feels that the kidneys are not strong or acting in a healthy manner should mix this prescription at home and give it a trial, as it is said to do wonders for many persons.

The Seranton (Pa.) Times was first to print this remarkable prescriptions, in October, of 1906, since when all the leading newspapers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburg and other cities have made many announcements of it to their readers.

THE MYSTIC STREAM.

[WRITTEN FOR THE NEWS.]

Flow and flow sweet river, gently, As I linger on thy breast;
If thy voice seems low and weary, I would bid thee sink to rest;
But thy tide in cease doth flow,
As my silent bark I row.
Naught can dim the happy vision Rising 'round this Mystic Stream:
From the earth to life's domain, Unto life out of a dream; Float thy stream, move on, still,
As the spirit guides the rill.
If, perchance, the loves of angels Mingle with the choirs of earth; Thy own waves can beat the music From the realms of love and mirth;
From the land of sweet delight, Where all faith is lost in sight.

Life and light in mingled fullness Float upon thy silvery wave;
All thy banks are lined with beauty, Living green thy waters pave.
Love's sweet song is caroled there, Love's own music fills the air.

many other good things to eat.
There was very little left when all were through eating, for John Wilson, and Jack Powell would walk ten miles any time to devour

HAS COME TO STAY

Deadlock in Kentucky Senatorial Race Seems to Have Become a Fixture.

ONE WAY OUT OF CONTEST

Our Correspondent at the Capital Presents an Interesting Review of Affairs Relating to the Legislature and Its Doings.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 28.—The deadlock in the senatorial race seems to have come to stay. Beckham is still three votes short of his election, and Bradley is five votes short, with six anti-Beckham Democrats voting for McCreary, Blackburn and other Democrats and holding the balance of power. The race has settled down to a sort of humdrum affair, and the two steering committees are getting the only excitement out of it, as they have to hustle around every morning to see if all the absentees are properly paired with some member of the opposite political party. The six anti-Beckham Democrats have it in their power, of course, to elect either Beckham or Bradley, but it has not been demonstrated yet that they can pull over enough Democrats or enough Republicans to elect a third man. A Republican member of the legislature said last week that if he were released from voting for the Republican nominee, W. O. Bradley, he would be willing to vote for Wheeler Campbell, one of the anti-Beckham Democrats, and thus end the deadlock. "But I will never ask Bradley to release me," said he, "for I know if I went to him and asked him to release me he would give me a good cussing, and I am not going to say a word about it, but just stand pat." This indicates that the deadlock may continue to the end of the session, but it will end any day that Beckham or Bradley withdraws from the race.

Governor Willson has sent a special message to the legislature on the subject of better schools and a more advanced system of education. He says there is a general movement all over the state for better teachers, better teaching, better schools, better school houses, longer school terms, better paid teachers, first-class normal schools to train teachers, and a complete change in the whole school system, bringing it up to the best modern methods. He suggests that a commission be provided for, composed of the governor, superintendent of public instruction, one senator, one representative, one lady to be chosen by the Federation of Women's clubs, the president of the state university, the presidents of the two normal schools, one superintendent of county schools and one superintendent of city schools, all to be selected by the governor, except those specifically named. The duty of this commission will be to investigate our school system and compare it with the best systems of other states and submit to the next general assembly a report embodying recommendations and suggestions as to needed changes in our school system. A bill proposing to create said commission has already been introduced in the senate by Senator Rives, and it will likely be passed and become a law if the senatorial race does not block all legislation.

Senator R. B. Brown of Gallatin county has introduced one of the most remarkable bills of the session, and while it is not likely to become a law, it is an index of the determined fight the tobacco growers are making to increase the price of tobacco by growing no crop at all this year. Senator Brown's bill provides that before it shall be lawful for any farmer to raise a crop of tobacco this year, he shall first procure a license to do so from the county clerk, and the price to be charged for said license shall be $50 for each acre of tobacco proposed to be grown. The penalty for the violation of provisions of the bill is fixed at a fine of from $500 to $1,000, so it is safe to predict that if the bill becomes the law there will be no tobacco grown in Kentucky this year.

The building of good roads in this state will be given a most wholesome impetus if the bill fathered by Senators Bosworth and Wyatt can be passed. Under the present constitution no county can assume an indebtedness for road-building purposes greater than 2 per cent of the assessed value of the property in the county. This amount has been found to be totally inadequate to secure anything like a decent system of public roads, and the demand from the people for better roads has become so insistent that an amendment to the constitution is deemed necessary as the only way to meet the demand of the people. The Bosworth-Wyatt bill provides that a vote be taken on an amendment to the constitution which will permit the counties to become indebted for building public roads to the amount of 10 per cent of the taxable value of the property in the county. This will give the people a chance to show whether they are in earnest or not when they clamor for better roads.

A determined fight will be made in this session of the legislature to give women the right to vote in school elections and to hold the office of school trustee or any other school office.

Representative J. A. Sullivan of Madison county has introduced a bill in the house, the first section of which says: "That any woman possessing the qualifications requisite to a male voter in common school elections, and who, in addition, may be able to read and write, is hereby declared qualified to vote at any election held for the purpose of choosing any officer of schools, or upon any measure relating to schools, and any woman possessing the qualifications required for males is hereby declared to be eligible to hold any office now existing or that may hereafter be created by any act of the general assembly."

Several delegations of women have already been to Frankfort in the interest of this bill, but some of the leading Woman's club members are working against it. It is predicted that the main stumbling block in the way of the measure becoming a law, is the fact that it gives negro women the same right to vote and hold office that it gives to the white women.

For the past twenty years or more attempts have been made to reduce the fees charged by stockyards companies, but for some reason all bills introduced in the legislature on that subject have failed to pass. Senator R. W. Owen of Hancock county has introduced a bill this session to regulate and reduce these fees and the prices charged for proventer. The senator is a farmer and a stock trader himself, and he feels from personal experience that the prices charged by these companies is too large. His bill provides that the price charged shall not be more than 50 per cent higher than the market price of the proventer and that the actual weight of the food shall be taken and not charged by guess, as seems to be the custom of some of the stockyard companies. This bill will meet with the hearty approval of the farmers and stock-shippers all over the state.

A bill aimed at the drug stores and corner grocery stores that sell whisky has been introduced. The bill does not name the drug stores or grocery, but it provides that one having a license to sell liquor shall not engage in any other business at the same place he sells the liquor. Among the other scores of bills offered the following are the most important:

Act to require an annual apportionment and accounting of the surplus of life insurance companies.

Act prohibiting the manufacture and sale of cigarettes in this state and providing a severe punishment therefor.

Act to prohibit the marriage of first and second cousins in this state.

Act to prevent the crowding or overloading beyond their seating capacity of passenger cars provided by railroad companies for the transportation of passengers, and to prevent any increase in rates now in effect or the withdrawal of certain tickets in retaliation.

Act providing for the teaching of the elements of agriculture in the public schools of the state.

Act amending the election law by providing that hereafter the ballots shall have no party emblems on them.

Act giving the landlord a superior lien on the tenant's crop for the money advanced to till the crop, the lien to be superior to all other liens for one year.

The classic old building where the legislature now meets and has met since 1832 will soon be a thing of the past as far as being of service to the state is concerned, unless the legislature makes some provision for its future. Everybody admires and loves the old building for its many historical associations and are anxious to see it preserved for all time and used by the state for some purpose. The most frequent suggestion is that it be turned over to the State Historical society and let that organization make a state historical museum of it after the new statehouse is furnished and occupied.
Nearly all the other older states have a historical museum, and Kentucky should have one by all means. No more suitable building could be found for such a purpose, and the state will have no further use for it after next year. In this way the state would secure a most valuable and interesting feature without having to spend anything to get it.

A great many amusing things are told as jokes on the legislative members from some of the back counties, some of them being true and some of them probably not true. The other day at the boarding house where one of these rural members was stopping, the housekeeper had apple dumplings for dinner and served them with a very toothsome sauce. The aforesaid legislator, it seems, had never seen any sausage before, so when he had about finished his dumpling the housekeeper asked him if he would not have something else. He replied, "Yes, I would like to have some more of that what you walloop your dumpling in."

The new statehouse is nearing completion, and from the outside promises to be a most magnificent building. The contractors have notified the commissioners that they will complete their work by May 15, and then the furnishing with desks, carpets and other necessary articles can begin if the present legislature makes an appropriation for that purpose. The building presents a splendid view from all parts of Frankfort and will, it is expected, be a source of pride to every Kentuckian as he sees it in passing through the city on the train. It is the only real first-class statehouse that Kentucky has ever had, and the only mistake was made in not building twenty-five years ago.

Combs' writing school at the mouth of Cockrill's fork is in fine progress. Jeremiah Smith has returned from a stay at London. Rachel Neace, wife of James Neace, has been seriously ill, but is improving. Mrs. G. B. Combs has about recovered from her serious trouble. The little son of G. B. Combs is on the sick list.

A social was given at the mouth of Arkansas branch last Saturday night. Our friend, Johnnie E. Clemons, was in attendance and afterwards fell over a cliff about ten feet high. He was considerably shaken up in his rapid descent but fortunately no bones were broken. We kindly ask the young people of this vicinity to leave off their socials and come to the Lord's house and ask the Lord to counsel and direct them in the path of righteousness. Every one has to give an account of his or her ways at the bar of justice. For whatsoever we sow we shall also reap. Let us sow good seeds while it is day, for when night comes no man can work.

LEATHER BRITCHES.

Frozen Creek.

There will be preaching at Mill creek the third Sunday in February. Sam Banks bought a horse from Sam Hounshell for $92.50. Mose King and wife are on the sick list. John Maloney and his entire family are down sick and in destitute circumstances. About twenty barrels of dishes have been shipped in this neighborhood, which has taken about $220 out of the community. The people should patronize our home merchants and keep their money at home.

LEE COUNTY. Fincastle.

Say, Mr. "Few Clothes," of Eversole, dollars to doughnuts you are a machine Democrat. Tax a dog or a cat and you would jump up and holler hurrah. That's like them—the Beckham kind.

Lookout, J. B., the measles have taken a new start in this section. The majority of Walter Little's family are down with them and one case in J. D. Shoemaker's family with about 11 more to have them.

There has been preaching at the Methodist church for the past week, but it seems that very little interest was taken in the services by the people. The pastor, Rev. J. H. Hieronymous, assisted by Sister Burke, labored hard and preached excellent sermons, but failed to get the church members warmed up to a sense of their duty. On account of the measles we suppose the attendance at the church was as small as what it was.

This Is the Way It Goes.

JACKSON, KY., Jan. 29, '08.
EDITOR THE NEWS:

The farmer works hard all summer and makes his crop of corn, not realizing the results that may come from it and he labors hard to make it, and he gets it made. This is the way it goes: He sells it and gets 50c, a bushel for it and the distiller gets four gallons of liquor, which brings him eight dollars at wholesale; the Government gets a tax; the retailer gets sixteen dollars; the consumer gets drunk; the wife gets a beating; the children get hungry and ragged; a man gets killed; the officers and lawyers get a fee; the penitentiary gets a convict, and at last the devil gets a soul; and still the people go on voting for the legalization of the liquor traffic.

I believe if we had a few more such men as Billy Mays for government marshals, that we would not have as many blind tigers as we now do. If we had the open saloon voted clear out, the devil would not get near so many souls. He does not promise the sinner any thing, but "The Wages of Sin is Death." He only promises them that he will drag them down and ruin their health, and when they die he will punish them and burn them forever, and yet there are many and many going ahead and saying: "Yes, Satan, I will trade with you that way."

There are some people who say: "Oh, it is a great deal better to have the open saloon than the blind tigers." Let us explain it to you, which is the best? For a hungry lion to be fastened securely in his cage, or to be turned loose among our people? Is it better to have a rattlesnake bound, or is it better to have it loose among our children? The answer is apparent. Those who either wish to sell whiskey or have plenty of it to drink, are the only persons who fail to see the answer to the above. HAYDEN SIZEMORE.

HEINTZ. JEWELER.

Opposite Phoenix Hotel, Lexington, Ky.

Farmers in the Southwest are getting rich on the increasing value of their farms.

Not so very many years ago Illinois and Iowa land sold for ten dollars an acre. More recently Nebraska lands sold at that price. Look at them now. What makes them so high? The land is no better than it was then. What caused the price to go up? People—nothing but people, and lots of them. History will repeat itself in the Southwest—only it will not take so long. The Southwest is growing very fast; much faster than any other section of the United States. The land in the Southwest is just as good as Illinois, Iowa or Nebraska land. But there is more land there than there are people, that's the only reason it's so cheap. How long do you think it will take the Southwest to get as many people to the farm acre as Illinois or Iowa have? Just about five years—ten at the very outside. When that time comes you will have to pay just as much for land in the Southwest as you would pay in Illinois or Iowa.

Why not buy your farm in the Southwest now—when you can get it cheap—cheap enough for you to get a big one? A few years hence you will be looked upon just as the man who owns 640 acres in Illinois is looked upon to-day—as a substantial, well-to-do, leading member of your community.

The low rate excursions via the Rock Island-Frisco Lines the first and third Tuesdays of each month, offer you an opportunity to see the Southwest at very little cost. Take this opportunity to get away from the cold for a few days, and enjoy the delightful weather the Southwest farmer is having.

Let me send you some interesting literature about the Southwest to read these long evenings. Our books about Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas and Oklahoma are full of photographs and reliable information—the very information a man thinking of settling in one of these states ought to have. I'll send you absolutely free any of these booklets you want.

The Rock Island-Frisco Lines have no lands for sale and are only getting good, energetic settlers for the fertile unoccupied prairie lands. To such men every help possible is freely given, and let us help you find a better location.
